National Park Service Seeks Public Comments about Proposed Project to Replace HVAC System at Sequoia National Park

Three Rivers, CA – The National Park Service is seeking public comments about a proposed project to replace the aging heating, ventilation, air conditioning, and cooling (HVAC) system at the Ash Mountain Headquarters Complex in Sequoia National Park in Three Rivers, CA. The complex includes the Administration, Visitor Center, and Supply Center/Warehouse buildings, which are located along the Generals Highway, just one mile from where Hwy. 198 ends at the park entrance. The project is anticipated to involve the replacement of walls, windows, and doors to dramatically improve the efficiency of the heating and cooling system while maintaining the historic character of buildings. All written comments about this project must be transmitted, postmarked, or hand-delivered by September 1, 2011. To respond electronically, submit your comments via the National Park Service Planning, Environment and Public Comment (PEPC) website at <http://parkplanning.nps.gov/seki>.
